

1 ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

2 A furnace residue washing method includes collecting residue from a furnace, 3 cooling the residue by water and screening the residue by different dimension scales,
4 separating the screened residue by different iron contents, separating and depositing 5 sand from the cooling water, crushing the screened residue of large dimension scale, 6 separating the screened residue of large dimension scale by different iron contents and 7 recollecting separately the separated and screened residue of large dimension scale.